Below is a list of possible funding options. Consider each one carefully and how you may use the funding you already receive for the 2015-2016 academic year to cover the cost of winter study abroad. When determining an amount for each category, only include the amounts that will be applied toward study abroad.

Example: If you have a job, estimate the amount you will earn from now until you depart for your program, but only enter the amount you can apply toward study abroad after your bills/expenses are paid.
